

LOCAL BRIEFS.

WOMEN POLITICIANS MEET.—The Women's Republican club will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Arthur Brown, 201 Brigham street.

FIELD FUNERAL.—Funeral services will be held over the remains of Mrs. Clara Harrison, 61st St., at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Eighteenth ward chapel. The remains may be viewed by friends at Joseph E. Taylor's undertaking rooms from 10 to 12 o'clock this morning.

FANCY DRESS PARTY.—Miss Irene Hanson was hostess at a fancy dress party at her home, 29 South Fourth East street, Friday evening. Those present were: Grace Bird, Marie Odell, Margaret Walker, Alice Kimball, Bernadine Fennell, Lois Caskey, Lucile Goble, Hazel and Lillie Fox, Emily McCister, Ruth Wolff, Edna Swen and Helen Hartley.

WILL BE NO INQUEST.—There will probably be no inquest held over the remains of Fred Smith, the Michigan transient who committed suicide at an early hour yesterday morning by swallowing strychnine. The coroner is awaiting the case, as Keller made a statement before dying, besides leaving a note explaining that he was tired of life.

"HAM SHOW" REHEARSAL.—The players in the "Ham show" will occupy the stage of the Salt Lake theatre tonight for a full rehearsal. The principals (all speaking parts) are requested to be present at 7:30 o'clock sharp, and participants in the non-speaking parts without further notice, at 8:20 o'clock. This will be probably the most important rehearsal of the production.

MANY INSPECT CHAPEL.—Between 20 and 30 people took advantage of the opportunity offered by the clergy of St. John's chapel yesterday afternoon to inspect the new chapel and splendid art stained windows which were installed on Saturday. The seating capacity of the chapel is about 300, there being a small gallery including the balcony. The picture that appeared in Sunday's Herald of the "Christ Blessing Children," one of the new windows in the St. John's chapel, was taken by Harry Shipley.
